Yellow warning
Wind

Between 20:00 Thu 29 Jul 2021 and
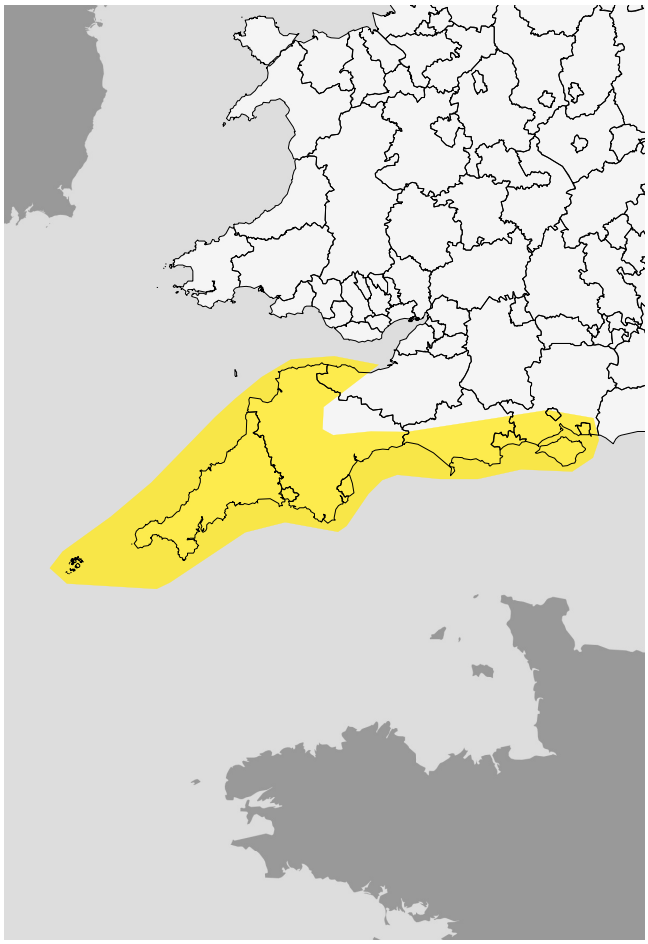
12:00 Fri 30 Jul 2021



An area of strong to gale force winds are possible and may cause damage to infrastructure and lead to travel disruption.

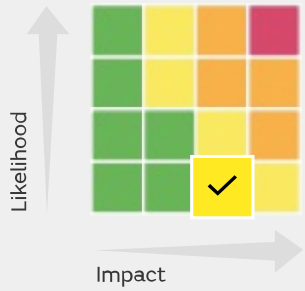
What to expect

- There is a slight chance of some damage to buildings, such as tiles blown from roofs
- There is a small chance of longer journey times or cancellations as road, rail, air and ferry services are affected
- There is a small chance that some roads and bridges could close
- There is a small chance that injuries and danger to life could occur from large waves and beach material being thrown onto sea fronts, coastal roads and properties

Further details

Whilst there remains a lot of uncertainty in the detail at this stage, there is the potential for a swathe of strong winds to arrive in the southwest of England during Thursday evening and then track eastwards along the south coast of England through Friday.

Winds may reach 55-65 mph across the Isles of Scilly and parts of Cornwall late Thursday into Friday morning. The strongest winds will then transfer along southern England coasts through Friday morning, weakening as they do so, with coastal gales and gusts of 45-50 mph possible.



Very low likelihood of medium impacts
